

DRAPER, UT – WealthRock, a nationwide provider of advanced financial and investing education, today announced that its multi-year agreement with Get Motivated Seminars/LifeWin has ended.

According to WealthRock CEO Aaron Osmond, the years-long agreement providing Get Motivated attendees premium access to WealthRock’s educational resources has been terminated. WealthRock had already obligated itself to fulfilling its commitment to the Get Motivated attendees through holding its world-renowned financial workshops for those students at four different Southern California training events, according to Osmond. “We will uphold our commitment to the Get Motivated attendees,” he said.

“We were troubled when we discovered that Get Motivated was calling all of our students and telling them to attend a completely different event with completely different speakers,” Osmond said. “We will do whatever we need to do, to ensure that our students get the speakers and education they paid for.”

All students should attend the event at the originally scheduled location. Those upcoming locations include:

Nov. 15-17, LAX Marriott, 5855 Century Blvd., Los Angeles, CA 90045

Nov. 18-20, Renaissance Long Beach Hotel, 111 Ocean Blvd., Long Beach, CA 90802

Nov. 29 – Dec. 1, Ontario Convention Center, 200 E. Convention Way, Ontario, CA 91764
